

JANUARY 2017

Learning in the International Classroom

Tuesday 31 January 2016 Centre for Internationalisation and Parallel Language Use (CIP) is hosting a seminar on learning experiences in the international classroom. The event is open to all interested participants including students.

Invited speaker Dr. Daan Romein of Leiden University is going to give a lecture on learning in the international classroom.

From the University of Copenhagen (UCPH) Trine Sand is giving a short talk on internationalisation from a study perspective at UCPH.

At the seminar, we will also be presenting our latest publication from the Pulje2016-project: Reflections and Learning Experiences from the International Classroom. The book is the second publication featuring voices from the international learning environment at UCPH. Two students featured in the book will give short presentation on their experiences from international classrooms at UCPH. From the first publication, Reflections and Teaching Experiences from the International Classroom, one of the authors lectures will also give a short talk to supplement the student input.

The programme starts at 10:30 and ends approx. 13:30.

Lunch is included.

Please fill in the registration form to sign up for the seminar.
